Business Overview

In an ideal world the reason for buying a business (other than to make money!) should surely be to have fun and there is perhaps no more likely business to achieve that aim than this one! Now for sale a costume and fancy dress hire business with party accessories shop in Kingsbridge in the heart of the South Hams. Established for 9 years the business has remained under the original founder's ownership since 2000. During that time not only has the successful 'one stop party shop' retail based operation become widely known but alongside the day to day business the owner has also developed a complementary specialist balloon supply and venue decoration service targeted at weddings, parties and celebrations that is in great demand. This opportunity is unlikely to remain on the market for long so an early consideration is therefore highly recommended.
